

Ask your MP to Support Access to the Coast!

We think our coast is special and we know you love walking there. Yet many parts of the coast are currently inaccessible.

On 26th & 27th October, the final debates and votes on the Marine and Coastal Access Bill will take place in the House of Commons.

This legislation will secure a coastal path around the whole of England, and it is essential that as many MPs as possible speak and vote in favour of coastal access.
